

Review – Blue Jasmine

Good – 29	Indifferent – 8	Bad – 2
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> I did not see this film last night but on a flight to Dubai in December! However I would like to record my thoughts, I enjoyed the film and thought it was good, very well acted by Cate Blanchett and a clever portrayal of how wrong things can get and how some deal with it! Very Good, acting superb from all Feared there was going to be a 'Hollywood ending' - there wasn't, but very sad, I fear the ocean awaits. I would like to award it an "excellent". I was unable to think 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> It made me laugh and the acting was generally very good, but I didn't have any sympathy with any of the characters. A dull script, stock characters, weak storyline, no wit or style, certainly no 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Boring, shallow – etc etc! Waste of time. Sorry but BAD; the critics gave it such a good write up, I should have known!

properly last night, but the actual film was done so wonderfully. And then the issues it raised..... It's not a film to forget.

- Woody Allen was probably basing the story on "A Streetcar Named Desire" but with his own twist. It is hard to be sympathetic to a self obsessed main character but you couldn't help feeling for her as she collapses at the end.
- A wonderful performance from Cate Blanchett along with Woody Allen's glorious soundtrack. 10/10
- Thoroughly enjoyable (shades of A Street Car Named Desire).
- OUTSTANDING
- Gosh, what a thought provoking film. The three of us think we enjoyed it, although we're still digesting the issues it raised. Cate Blanchett was scarily believable in all of the facets of the main character, whilst the rest of the cast were all good too. Overall amazing, but I don't think I'd want to see it again!
- This was the second time I had seen the film and I appreciated it much more this time. Some great lines, really good music and fantastic acting.
- Glad he left us to wonder what happened next!
- I enjoyed the film, it was good fun.
- Enjoyed the film very much, really well acted, didn't realize Cate Blanchett was such a good actress. Such an unpleasant part to play.
- I can appreciate the quality of the film although I really struggled to find even one sympathetic character.
- I thought the film was good, although my friend was disappointed in it because she felt it didn't really go anywhere. I thought it was quite a good portrayal of the way people can ruin their lives and yet learn nothing from it. Thought there were some really strong performances in it.
- Blue Jasmine - the product of a highly-strung miserabilist, but a comedy - and this is a Woody Allen film?!

The inevitable comparisons with 'Streetcar Named Desire' just serve to show how shallow a piece of work this is. Only Cate Blanchett's superb performance rescues this film from bad to indifferent. Thanks anyway for arranging the showing.

- One of the few films I didn't find myself thinking about the next day.

good film, hitting lots of targets. CB's acting was brilliant. The way she was able to transform her beautiful face into one of confused, ageing sorrow was brilliant.

- A pretty name for an unlovely character but superbly acted by 2014 Oscar nominee Cate Blanchett. Come to that, none of the characters endeared themselves and the film needed its lighter moments - indeed, we could have done with more to relieve the domestic noise and aggro. No wonder BJ went full circle and was fast heading for self-destruction again. Well acted throughout with the exception of the one-dimensional diplomat.
- Good because of the excellent acting. Cate Blanchett has received all the praise but I think Sally Hawkins as Ginger deserved more praise.
- We thought it Good if not excellent as a film. We did not like any of the characters!
- Excellent film. Thank you.
- Thoroughly enjoyed it ; good fun but with pathos to the ending.
- It shows how men can destroy women's' lives, and you don't know from one moment to the next what life will bring. The film highlighted you need to be civil to people as you don't know when you need them! Great promo for San Francisco.